INTRODUCTION

I. A BRIEF HISTORY.....	xvii
II. THE FIVE PROBLEMS OF MENTAL CAUSATION	xxi
ii.i. Mental anomalism	xxi
ii.ii. Normativity	xxiii
ii.iii. Phenomenal states of affairs.....	xxiii
ii.iv. Externalism.....	xxiv
ii.v. Causal exclusion.....	xxv
III. A LOOK FORWARD	xxix
iii.i. What we need	xxix
iii.ii. What is coming.....	xxxi

PART I. ONTOLOGY

CHAPTER 1 PARTICULARS, PROPERTIES, AND RELATIONS.....	1
1.1. Particulars	1
1.2. Properties	2
1.3. How properties are had	4
1.4. States of affairs	5
1.5. Token identity of particulars.....	7
1.6. Relations	8
1.7. Relational properties	11
1.8. Relationism	12
CHAPTER 2 PHYSICALISM.....	15
2.1. A negative account of 'physical'	15
2.2. Supervenience and physical realization	16
2.3. The free lunch principle	19
2.4. Arguments for physicalism.....	21

CHAPTER 3 A LAYERED WORLD	25
3.1. Levels of organization	25
3.2. Emergence	26
3.3. Upward causation	28
3.4. Multiple realizability.....	31
3.5. Relational properties and indirect supervenience	33
3.6. Relational properties and nonlocal supervenience.....	34
3.7. Against type identity.....	36
3.8. Non-identity and non-distinctness	39
3.9. Summary	40

PART II. CAUSALITY

CHAPTER 4 A DUALITY IN THE CONCEPT OF CAUSALITY	43
4.1. Causality: the very idea.....	43
4.2. The double face of causality	46
4.3. Dependence and physical connection	47
4.4. Generality and particularity	48
4.5. Theories of causality	50
CHAPTER 5 CAUSAL DEPENDENCE	53
5.1. INUS conditions	53
5.2. Counterfactuals and fixed circumstances.....	55
5.3. Noncausal conditions.....	58
5.4. Nonsalient causal conditions	59
5.5. Counting causes and effects.....	60
5.6. Indeterminism	61
5.7. Collateral effects	63
5.8. Overdetermination	65
5.9. Pre-emption.....	66
CHAPTER 6 CAUSAL CONNECTION	73
6.1. From counterfactual dependence to physical connection	73
6.2. The mechanistic approach.....	74
6.3. Causal processes	76
6.4. First criticism: the at-at theory of causal influence.....	78
6.5. Second criticism: causation by disconnection	80
6.6. Third criticism: causal relevance	82
6.7. Fourth criticism: the ontology of causal processes	84
6.8. What causal connections are.....	85

CHAPTER 7 UNIFYING DEPENDENCE AND CONNECTION	87
7.1. Physically linking causes and effects: Kitcher.....	87
7.2. Physically linking causes and effects: Mackie.....	87
7.3. Physically linking causes and effects: Dowe.....	89
7.4. From relations and mechanisms to dependencies and connections	90
7.5. The pairing problem.....	92
7.6. The pairing principle.....	94
7.7. Negative causal factors	96
7.8. Why we think causally.....	99
 CHAPTER 8 CAUSATION AND NATURAL LAW	 101
8.1. The first problem of mental causation	101
8.2. The nomological approach to causation	101
8.3. Against the notion of ‘causal law’	103
8.4. Laws and patterns	105
8.5. Particularism	106
8.6. Perception of causal relations	108
8.7. Causal perception as implicit knowledge	110
8.8. Causal perception: object and content	113
 CHAPTER 9 THE PROBLEM OF CAUSAL RELATA.....	 115
9.1. Causal ontology and mental causation.....	115
9.2. Hume, Kim, and others	116
9.3. Examples of causal statements.....	117
9.4. Excluding concrete particulars.....	118
9.5. Excluding negative states of affairs	118
9.6. Excluding regularities	120
9.7. Properties of states of affairs.....	121
 CHAPTER 10 GETTING EVENTS WRONG.....	 125
10.1. Event mereology	125
10.2. Events according to Davidson	127
10.3. First criticism: causal relations and causal explanations	128
10.4. Second criticism: causal relevance and irrelevance of properties.....	131
10.5. Third criticism: the need for states of affairs	134
 CHAPTER 11 GETTING EVENTS RIGHT	 137
11.1. Events according to Kim.....	137
11.2. The narrative view: events as episodes.....	138
11.3. In favour of the narrative view.....	140
11.4. Events, ongoing processes, and states of affairs	143

CHAPTER 12 RELATIONS AS CAUSAL RELATA	147
12.1. Relational causal relata	147
12.2. Causal relations as causes	149
12.3. Causal relations as effects.....	151
CHAPTER 13 CAUSAL EFFICACY	155
13.1. The need for a criterion.....	155
13.2. Locality and intrinsicness	156
13.3. The criterion of local difference	157
13.4. In favour of the criterion of local difference.....	158
13.5. Relational properties	161
13.6. The causal efficacy of relational properties	163
13.7. The causal efficacy of the past.....	166
CHAPTER 14 SUPERVENIENT CAUSATION	169
14.1. Epiphenomenalism or downward causation: a dilemma?.....	169
14.2. Relationality and causal autonomy	171
14.3. Commensurateness and the correlation principle	172
14.4. Downward causation and causal closure	174
14.5. Downward causation as constraint.....	175
14.6. Doing versus exploiting causal work.....	178

PART III. MIND

CHAPTER 15 THE CONCEPT OF MIND.....	183
15.1. Introduction.....	183
15.2. Mind presupposes teleology	184
15.3. Mind presupposes representation.....	187
15.4. Mind presupposes (ir-)rationality	190
15.5. Mind presupposes perception and action.....	191
15.6. Mind and qualia	194
CHAPTER 16 AGAINST THE COMPUTATIONAL THEORY	199
16.1. Introduction.....	199
16.2. The computational theory of mind.....	200
16.3. First criticism: epiphenomenalism.....	201
16.4. Second criticism: lack of psychological realism.....	202
16.5. Further criticisms	202
16.6. Propositional attitudes as mental models.....	205

16.7. In favour of the theory of mental models.....	208
16.8. Propositional attitudes according to interpretationism.....	209
CHAPTER 17 AGAINST THE THEORY THEORY.....	211
17.1. Introduction.....	211
17.2. The Theory Theory	213
17.3. Against the Theory Theory	214
17.4. Interpretationism.....	216
17.5. Simulation theory.....	216
CHAPTER 18 AGAINST INTERNALISM.....	219
18.1. Introduction.....	219
18.2. Semantic externalism.....	221
18.3. Interpretationist externalism	222
18.4. Social and linguistic externalism	223
18.5. Etiological externalism	224
18.6. Environmentalism.....	225
18.7. Reasons externalism	228
CHAPTER 19 AGAINST REDUCTIONISM.....	233
19.1. Introduction.....	233
19.2. Nagel-reductionism.....	234
19.3. Functional reductionism	235
19.4. Eliminativism.....	238
19.5. Reductionism as method.....	239
CHAPTER 20 AGAINST TOKEN PHYSICALISM.....	241
20.1. Introduction.....	241
20.2. Mental holism and uncodifiability	241
20.3. The problem of arbitrariness.....	243
20.4. Weak externalism	245
20.5. Against weak externalism.....	247
20.6. Actions.....	248

CONCLUSION

CHAPTER 21 THE FIVE PROBLEMS ONCE AGAIN.....	253
21.1. Mental anomalism.....	253
21.2. Normativity	254
21.3. Phenomenal states of affairs	256
